STUDENT VOICE AT THE HOME OF THE KNIGHTS

Volume 22 Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, April 13, 1957 Number 25

Final Plans Under Way For Grads

Commencement activities are in the final stage of planning according to Dr. A. W. Swensen, commencement and concert chairman. The week-long affair begins Friday, May 24, with the Honors Day convocation in Knights Gymnasium.

Baccalaureate services will be Sunday, May 26, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, with President C. H. Becker delivering the sermon. Sunday evening, the annual president's reception for graduating students will be held.

Monday night Castle Singers will present the spring concert. Alumni will have their day on Thursday as all former grads are invited back for a day-long program.

Highlighting the week will be Commencement on Friday. Dr. Gerhard Lenski, Washington, D.C., will be featured as the speaker.

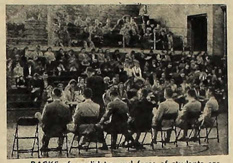
Coed To Capital; Kay Fritschel Chosen Here

Kay Fritschel, junior from Moville, has been selected as one of twenty Iowa college students who will spend one weak in Washington, D.C., studying national politics. Miss Fritschel will be in Washington the week of June 23-29.

As "political interns" the students will confer with congressional and national political leaders, visit the national headquarters of the political parties and attend committee hearings and sessions of Congress. They will travel in pairs, a Republican and Democratic representative comprising each pair.

The program is sponsored by the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House and the Democratic and Republican parties of Iowa. Miss Fritschel and her intern partner will be guests of Congressman and Mrs. Coad, sixth Iowa district, during their stay in Washington.

SBP Election Climaxes Campaign



BACKS of candidates and faces of students are viewed at Thursday's Student Body meeting as platforms and promises are discussed.

Drive 'Highly Successful'

Waverly's campaign for a "Greater Wartburg" is nearing a highly successful conclusion, reports Chairman Harry Hagemann, local attorney. A total of over $100,000 has been raised in this community of less than 6,000 population.

The current campaign includes both cash and pledges to be paid over the next two years. Four groups participated in the fund raising: the Wartburg faculty, Student Body, the Waverly community and Board of Regents. Announcement of the exact totals will be made at a special open house event for the Waverly community, Sunday, April 28.

This campaign marked the second time in a decade that residents have conducted a campaign for the college. In 1945-46 a total of nearly $100,000 was raised to start the boom in construction and student growth which has increased enrollment from 175 to 837 students in 11 years.

Ticket Sale Starts

Tickets for the Duke Ellington concert will go on sale Tuesday, April 23, at 8 a.m. in the treasurer's office according to Stan Vogel, popular concert chairman. Prices are $1.50 reserved and $1.25 general admission.

Anchors Aweigh

A dual team of Navy officers and representatives of the N.A.V.C.A.D. program will be in Fuchs Lounge Friday, April 26, to discuss their specific programs with anyone interested.

Convo Features Holy Week Services; Publication Speaker Coming Up Next

Two worship services for the Holy Week constitute the convo program for next week, while an address by Dr. Donald Heiges and a convocation by Wartburg Publications appear on the schedule for the week following Easter vacation.

Knights Chorale, under the direction of senior Jeanette Schmierer, will present a worship service at Tuesday's Convo and at evening Chapel Tuesday.

CONVO IN LT. The service, to be held in Little Theater, is of Latin origin. Entitled Tenebrae, this service is traditionally sung in Holy Week to impress on the minds and hearts of believers the consequence of sin and the magnitude of the Savior's sacrifice. Milt Ost and Wayne Wissenbuehler will act as narrators for this service.

A second, worship service will be held on Thursday with Dr. Becker delivering the sermon.

HEIGES APRIL 23. Dr. Donald Heiges, graduate of Gettysburg Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Penn., will be the speaker at Convocation on April 23. Dr. Heiges is presently the executive secretary of the division of college and university work of the National Lutheran Council.

The division of college and university work is the agency of seven Lutheran church bodies which supervises and coordinates a Lutheran ministry and program for students and faculty members at the colleges, professional schools and universities in the entire United States.

BONDERUD HERE. As part of the Publications Week, Omar Bonderud, former two-time editor of the Wartburg TRUMPET, will speak at Convo on Thursday, April 25. Bonderud, who was Editor of the first All-American TRUMPET, is currently associated with the Wartburg Press in Columbus, Ohio.

Thalacker's Poem Receives Award

Senior Bill Thalacker was recently awarded an honorable mention for his work submitted in the annual contest of the Iowa Poetry Association.

Entries in the college division came from 78 students representing 20 Iowa colleges and universities. Thalacker's work will be printed in the Lyrical Iowa Brochure to be published this summer.

Faculty member, Miss Margaret Wolff, also received recognition for her poem entered in the adult division of the same contest.

Kay Added

Mr. Thomas O. Kay will be added to Wartburg's faculty next year as instructor of history and political science.

Kay received his AB degree from Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and his MA degree in medieval history from the University of Chicago. He has had teaching experience on the staff at Wheaton College, and is at present a doctoral candidate in history at the University of Chicago.

Four Candidates State Platforms At Student Body Meeting Thurs.

Student voters will go to the polls Monday to climax Student Body presidential campaigns. Six nominees will comprise the ballot — four presidential and vice presidential and two secretarial.

At last Thursday's convocation, the four presidential candidates were given an opportunity to express their campaign views. Following are a number of comments made by the presidential candidates in their campaign speeches.

'EFFICIENCY.' Robert Hannemann stated, at the Student Body meeting: "In order for student government to progressively develop, a great responsibility for a steady, keenly observant and businesslike efficiency is demanded of the Student Body president.

"With this in mind I shall try honestly and faithfully to perform any duties that may be required of me as well as encouraging others in at least part time student government activity."

In regard to his platform, Hannemann said: "There are areas of platform and policy which require careful cooperation such as dancing and campus congregation issues, wage increases and improvements. Carbon traps for smoke stacks, a circular drive behind Grossman Hall and better sidewalk facilities from the Fine Arts Center to Grossman Hall are a number of improvements which could be made."

'RESPONSIBILITY.' John Adix made this statement: "It is with a deep sense of responsibility that a candidate places his name in nomination for the office of Student Body president. I have grown to the realization that there is continual need for efficient student government at Wartburg. It would indeed be a privilege to be a major part of that government next year."

Adix went on to say "During this campaign, four candidates were presenting their views on student government, but the final decision will be up to the Student Body. Only through the active participation of the students, will the voice of student government be kept alive."

'GOOD WILL.' As one of the Student Body presidential candidates, Charles Maahs voiced his views saying, "I believe that the platforms of all the candidates indicate a sincere interest in student government. I feel that all phases of student welfare and student leadership are essential in our everyday life and to our careers.

"I would like to accent the fact that we have had a progressive student government because of our excellent student - faculty relationship and good will. The endorsement of student government lies in the privilege to vote."

'LEADERSHIP.' Harvey Groskreutz, in briefing his platform views, said: "Of the proposals in my platform, I consider development of future leadership of prime importance. Establishing a housing unit coordination committee is, in my opinion, a practical approach to the ever present difficulty of keeping the students in contact with one another, especially at the governmental level."

Groskreutz went on to say "The popular concert of last year has shown that this program is more than self-supporting. Expanding the program to one concert per semester would create a more desirable ratio between popular and classical influence on campus. I consider these views to be in the best interest of the Student Body, the college and the community."

More vote casting will be in store for the Student Body in the next few weeks. Following election of the president, vice president and secretary on Monday, students will be asked to choose a Homecoming chairman, class presidents and senators.

Homecoming chairman primary will come next Thursday with the final on the following week.

Haefner In On ALC Study Of Church Women

Dr. Alfred E. Haefner, Greek department, has been appointed to a special commission of three men to study the position of women in the church, with special reference to their holding public office in the church. The request to undertake this study came from Dr. Henry F. Schuh, president of the American Lutheran Church, on recommendation of the college of district presidents.

Other members of the study group are Prof. Paul Leo, Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, and Prof T. S. Liefeld of the Theological Seminary of Capital University. The group is asked to give special attention to the exegetical aspects of the problem.

The commission will have to face the question: On what basis does (or should) the Lutheran church make a distinction between the sexes in filling public office in the church?

Paper Takes Break

TRUMPET will not be published next week due to the Easter holiday. Next issue of the paper will be on April 27 when the special 12-page Golden Anniversary edition will be published.

Editor Cy Wainscott announced that there will be a special meeting of all TRUMPET staffers Wednesday evening at 6 in connection with the special editon.

Family Crisis . . . For You!

"The Wartburg Family."

Hardly a day passes when this familiar phrase that echoes about the campus the year round doesn't reach our ears or eyes. Constant repetition, in fact, has almost destroyed the significance of the words. We hear it and repeat it without really challenging its validity.

What is the Wartburg Family? Does it still exist or is it a conception of the past, now outdated?

Answers vary greatly. Many will tell you that it is sentimental bogwash carried over from the days when little more than one hundred students and faculty members lived together intimately in a relatively isolated and close-knit group. It is ludicrous, they will say, to imagine a "family" of nearly nine hundred in any kind of close-knit relationship.

Just as many on the other hand will contend that the Wartburg Family is a living fact — bound together in spiritual and cultural oneness of purpose. It appears that both groups are correct to a degree.

We must hope, however, that eventually the latter conviction will prevail. For when Wartburg ceases to be the Wartburg Family and becomes instead merely buildings and students and instructors it loses its distinctiveness. It begins to die.

Now we are engaged in a "family crisis."

There are those that would have us believe that here at Wartburg, as unfortunately it is on so many campuses, it is a case of the Student Body AGAINST the administration and faculty. Nothing could be further from the truth.

There now exists on the campus a relationship between the Student Body through student government and the administration that would be difficult, if not impossible, to find equal anywhere in the United States. Unity of purpose has made this possible and one of the things that has made it a reality is the high caliber of student government.

This high plane of mutually beneficial relationship has not been achieved because of the weakness of any one group but because of their strength and mutual respect.

This is where the crisis enters in. Monday the students will go to the polls to begin selecting a new student government. Students must realize that the next government must be of the same high caliber and vote according to their beliefs as to which candidates can effect this.

Just as there are those in the Student Body who decry the idea of cooperation with the administration there are those few in the administration-faculty group who would lessen much of the influence of student powers and privileges. In both cases these are minor influences. The family spirit still dominates.

But unless we elect a student government capable of commanding respect of both students and faculty, of clear and honest thinking and of solemn dedication, the crisis may turn to disaster.

The duty of the student is clear. Think — then vote.

KNIGHT BEAT

by Bob LosLo

Well we whipped right through that week in a hurry and here I am again, desperate for material as usual. We had another open forum convo program, but unfortunately this show turned out to be too many commercials and not enough program. Come on, Harold, quit packing and tell us what the administration thought of your question.

Here's something that the Luther students didn't find too tough to take. While we had an open forum convo last Tuesday, they had Ogden Nash. So what, we have Duke Ellington coming.

Which brings us to another interesting tidbit. I read in Dorothy Kilgallen's (She's one of those columnists that gets paid.) "Voice of Broadway" that Duke Ellington's friends are worried about his health. He had to leave in the middle of a show last week. Feel the old Wartburg luck creeping down upon you?

Glad to see someone on this campus remains undaunted by the weather. I was walking down by the riverbank last Wednesday (it was daylight) and found Don Klepzig and Fred Langrock and their dates having a picnic.

Thank goodness for little things — like courtesy week coming only once a year. I saw two girls forcing a poor, defenseless boy back into his car so they could open the door for him. They were also nice enough to help me across the street. The only trouble was I was going the other way.

John Adix is assured of getting at least one vote. After all, somebody has to straighten that knight. The job seems about as hard as getting toothpicks in the Den.

Letter To Editor Airs Congregation Views

To The Editor:

In convocation Tuesday I briefly stated my position concerning a campus congregation. I would like to present my views further in pros and cons.

Against a student congregation: Isolation from the community, the rights of non-Lutherans (i.e. membership, communion, finances and the theological problem of calling a pastor.)

For a student congregation: It would spiritually unite the Wartburg family, it would give one man (the pastor) full time opportunities to minister the spiritual needs of the students (i.e. counseling, supervising and preaching), and it would show the members of the A.L.C. that we are concerned with our spiritual life on campus.

I submit this in the interest of stimulating thought and study of the possibility of a student congregation at Wartburg.

WHAT IN THE WORLD

Obe Seeks Key To Peace

By Don Oberdorfer

Despite the efforts of many peace loving countries to try and secure a water-tight system to prevent further bloodshed around the globe, to the average untrained eye, things seem to be growing blacker by the day.

Despite the attempt to pacify Mid-East countries and at the same time open the vital Suez Canal to world traffic, despite the attempt to help a suppressed country free itself from its materialistic war lords, we remain waist high in the quicksand of political helplessness.

Oberdorfer

As an example let us look at our "allies" in Germany. Following a knock-down drag out World War we gave material aid that those nations once vanquished might regain their former productiveness and contribute to the plan for world peace. However, what makes us so cock sure? We in America, because we think that the humanistic element in helping our needy fellow man has been accomplished, feel that they will automatically become subdued and peaceloving. Not so!

Now we are encouraging a utopian state which will be referred to as the United States of Europe. Hogwash! The European countries are, and for an exceedingly long time will be, extremely nationalistic. The German does not admit his defeat in World War II. What happened there was merely misdirected and unfortunate. It has often been said by those who presume to know of these things that we will, in the future, be fighting those whom we now refer to as our friends and cohorts in peaceful strivings.

After all, is the American not merely one who fights the "Axis" abroad and Indians at home? Will we never revert back to the uncultured, political mess which is (so the opinion goes) evident in that country now?

I laud and praise the good intentions of our political leaders, but I often wonder if we are realistic about the future. While this issue remains red-hot overseas, it is a dead potato at home. We Americans can maintain the most exasperating ignorance and lack of interest of happenings in the world around us of any existing nation.

I, who seem to be discouraged at the bleak future, can only cheer on the efforts of a peaceful nation in its struggle with those who claim "squatters rights."

I am able to offer few other suitable conclusions and wonder whether this quoted idea isn't right—"Go over to those countries causing the trouble, shoot all the people, and populate the countries with Americans. See, no more trouble."

Thank you, sir. Now we know what the middle ages were like.

In a nutshell — they're both investments in the future! Your present enrollment indicates that you consider education a valuable investment rather than an expenditure of time and money only.

It's the same with life insurance: Some people still consider it an expense. But more and more young people are realizing that money paid to their life insurance account is a genuine investment in their personal financial future.

You're protected for the full amount of the policy immediately, your savings start building up important cash values, and your policy is constantly adaptable to your changing needs.

Redmen Host Knights Today

Coach Earnie Oppermann and the Wartburg baseball squad are at Indianola today for a doubleheader with the Simpson Redmen.

The weatherman put the dampers on yesterday's scheduled game with LaCrosse. Frigid temperatures and a high wind made playing conditions impractical.

Game time for the opener this afternoon is at one. LaVerne Luepker will take the hill in the first game. Fred Jaspers is slated to toe the rubber in the finale.

LOOP OPENER. The twin bill with Simpson will mark Wartburg's debut in conference action. Iowa Wesleyan will be here next Saturday for another pair of conference contests.

The Knights initiated their 1957 diamond season Tuesday with an 8-3 win over Grinnell.

The Grinnell nine drew first blood in the second inning when Roegge singled and Ofannesfiel doubled him home. Wartburg tallied three times in the third to send starting pitcher Nissen to the showers.

MANY-GO-ROUND. After Bill Bomhoff, Art Margheim and Darwin Fritz hit successive one baggers Nissen issued free passes to Jaspers, Don Staude, Craig Wason and Wayne Slack.

The Knights scored a lone run in the sixth and a single in the seventh for a 5-1 edge. Grinnell came up with a pair of unearned runs off Luepker in the eighth frame but Wartburg notched three more in the bottom half to sew it up.

Wason's double with two men on was the big blow.

Bomhoff had a perfect day at the plate with three hits and two walks in five trips. Jaspers was the winning hurler and Nissen was charged with the loss.

DIAMONDMEN are shown here in the process of downing Grinnell 8-3 Tuesday.

Vogel-Cornwall Fall

Wartburg tennis duo Stan Vogel and Bob Cornwall got off to a good start yesterday in a doubles meet with conference foes at Pella but were edged out in the semifinal round.

At home today the Wartburg netsters will host I.S.T.C.

No Firsts For Thinclads

Second in the pole vault was the highest Wartburg could finish as Knight tractsters began their season at the Iowa Conference Relays held at Pella yesterday.

Andy Polis vaulted into second place, while Jim Thomas finished fourth in the same event. Carl Anderson tied for fourth in the high jump.

In the running events, Wartburg tied with Luther in the 440 relay and finished third in the 880. Dubuque, always strong in Iowa Conference track, took four out of the six running events, while Luther took the remaining two races.

440-yard relay—1. Dubuque (Collins, Cramer, McGregor, Hansen); 2. Central; 3. Tie between Luther and Wartburg; :45.5.

880-yard relay—1. Dubuque (Collins, Cramer, McGregor, Hansen); 2. Central; 3. Wartburg; 1:34.4.

Mile relay—1. Dubuque (Hansen, Bolling, McGregor, Collins); 2. Parsons; 3. Central; 3:31.8. (meet record; old record 3:31.9 by Dubuque, 1955).

Javelin—1. Brown (L); 2. Johannson (D); 3. Smith (P); 179-11.

High jump—1. Hoffman (L); 2. Tie between Haughey (S) and Schmidt (P); 4. Tie between Kempthorn (D) and Anderson (W); 5-11¾.

Discus—1. Pfister (L); 2. Harbrecht (D); 3. Garvin (UI); 126-1.

Broad jump—1. Hutchins (IW); 2. Christenson (L); 3. McCoy (S); 20-8¾.

Bowl-Inn First As IM Bowling Nears Closing

Waverly Bowl-Inn strengthened its grip on first place in the college bowling league by downing second place Ritchie Pontiac 4-0, Wednesday night.

Other action saw Liebau's Barber shop blanking Meyer Drug 4-0, Carver's Restaurant erasing Hilltop Cafe 4-0, and Crest-O-Diner winning 3-1 over Top Hat Cleaners.

Fred Jaspers turned in the high series, a 548, and also the top game with a 230. Ernie Oppermann carded a 542 for second place series and copped runner-up game honors with a 224.

110 Join IM Ranks As Volleyball Begins

Intramural coed volleyball is under way with about 110 students participating.

In Monday's games, Dave Reif's team downed Bill Bomhoff's 34-19, Joe Sloter's crew dumped Paul Hesterberg's 25-15, Phil Moeller's squad won over Fred Jaspers' team 31-22 and John Polis' outfit whipped Charlie Maah's hunch 32-25.

Thursday night, Maah's outfit was trounced by Rief's 41-17, Moeller's edged Polis' 32-30, Sloter's shellacked Jaspers' crew 55-14, and Bomhoff's team trimmed Hesterberg's 40-23.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO THEM

Fraternities Serve, Stimulate

By Joan Pape

Alpha Phi Gamma, Alpha Psi Omega, Beta Beta Beta, Pi Beta Epsilon — sound like a devoted Greek student reciting his lessons? Well, actually it isn't. It is instead a listing of the four honorary Greek letter fraternities on campus.

Though each of these fraternities is in a different field, all four have a number of things in common. First of all, each of them is a national honorary coeducational fraternity. (This is one type of fraternity where girls can also be members!) Membership is granted through a special initiation ceremony only after a certain amount of work has been done in the respective field and a special period as a pledge has been spent. But let's look at the individual characteristics of each fraternity.

SCRIBE TRIBE. Alpha Phi Gamma, the national honorary journalism fraternity, is perhap the oldest organization in this group. Membership is granted through initiation ceremonies during the first and second semesters to people who have done outstanding work in the field of journalism. The Alpha Phi Gamma motto, "Writing the truth in love," seems to be especially significant.

President John Polis stated that the duties of the group include editing the student directory, writing a Christmas newsletter for APG alumni, publishing a special paper, "The Bugle," on High School Visitation Day and sponsoring the Press Banquet each spring.

TROUPE GROUP. For those interested in the field of dramatics, membership in Alpha Psi Omega is a special honor. In order to be initiated into this group, a certain amount of points must be earned by helping to produce and by acting in Wartburg plays. APO is especially fortunate in having a private meeting room in the Little Theater where formal dinner meetings are held once a month.

President Jim Roever stated that the main activity of Alpha Psi members is sponsoring the annual children's play and supporting all of the department productions.

Alpba Psi Omega was first organized on the Wartburg campus in 1949. Miss Erna Moehl, a member of the Wartburg faculty, was a charter member of the group.

BIO-LOGICAL. Stimulation of sound scholarship, dissemination of scientific knowledge and promotion of biological research: this is the three-fold purpose of Beta Beta Beta, the national honorary fraternity in the field of biological sciences. Membership in this group is granted to biology majors who are in the upper half of their class and who have twelve hours in the field.

Organized on the Wartburg campus in 1951, Beta Beta Beta has assumed many duties, especially counseling of biology students and designing the science displays in Luther Hall. Laverne Bouldhaudt is president.

RADIO-ACTIVE. Newest fraternity at Wartburg is Pi Beta Epsilon, national honorary radio fraternity, which held its first meeting May 24, 1954. This group is also unusual in that Wartburg is national headquarters for the fraternity.

Membership in PBE is earned by working one year in the major division of radio arts and one semester in an auxiliary division. An oral test must be passed in order to become a member.

President Bruce Friedich stated that one of the duties of the group is sponsoring the annual PBE show, the first show of the Wartburg season.

These, then, are Wartburg's honorary fraternities. It seems rather unusual, however, that such a small percentage of Wartburg students belong to these groups — the combined number of members is only about 40. Could be that there is room for more work in each of these fields.

Mary Anders Hired To Join Music Staff

Miss Mary E. Anders will replace Miss Jean Abramson as instructor of piano this fall. Miss Abramson will be taking a leave of absence for a year to complete work on her doctoral degree.

Miss Anders received her BM with distinction from DePauw University, Green Castle, Ind. She will receive her Master of Music degree from Northwestern University this June.

Bible Confabs Listed For Sun. Discussion

Bible Discussion leaders and the topics to be discussed at St. Paul's Parish House on Sunday morning at 9 have been listed as follows:

Valeria Johnson will discuss "The Observance of Lent;" Marlene Haiheck, "So You Were Confirmed;" Mel Frahm, "Martin Luther's Sermon on Suffering of Christ;" Lois Phillipi, "Faith Oppression and Prayer;" and Milt Ost, "The Cross Measured by the Clock."

Israeli Violinist Appears In FAC Recital Monday

Ramy Shevelov, young Israeli violinist, will be presented in recital Monday evening at 8 in the choral room of the Fine Arts Center. Local chapter of the Music Educators National conference is sponsoring the appearance.

Shelevlov is first violinist with the State University of Iowa String Quartet and is head of the Violin Department at SUI. There will be no admission charge for his concert.

Included on his program are two fantasies of Georg Teleman, Bach's Partita in B minor, the Sonata in G by Paul Ben-Haim and two more fantasies of Teleman.

Shelevlov was born in Tel-Aviv, Israel in 1930 and received his early musical education there. After serving in the Israeli army, he came to the United States in 1949 and studied at the Julliard School of Music in New York.

He has made numerous concert appearances in such places as New York's Town Hall, the Washington Gallery and the Gardener Museum in Brooklyn. He appeared with the SUI quartet in Knights Gymnasium last Saturday in connection with the string festival.

CHI RHO'S DINE

The annual Chi Rho banquet, scheduled for Sunday evening at 6, will be substituted for the April meeting. Dr. Harold Bernhard, head of the Department of Religion at Iowa State Teachers College, will be the banquet speaker. The election of next year's officers will also take place during the banquet.

Hertel In DM

Dr. Elmer Hertel, Biology Department, who is a member of the State Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences, was in Des Moines April 9 to give examinations. Anyone who practices one of the healing arts has to take this examination.

CLUB TO CLINTON

Science Club is planning a field trip to the Du Pont cellophane plant in Clinton soon after Easter according to junior Alvin Danielson, club publicity agent.
